

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT

Two of the greatest sources of strength in this time of uncertainty, anxiety and loss are the love and support of community. The work of LCMNU carries on, as faithfully and with as much intention as it did before this pandemic.

Just as before, we look to our family members, our friends and our connected faith communities to continue to offer their support of this life-sustaining work.

LCMNU is a welcoming community experiencing, living and sharing the love of God through scholarship, service and faith.

As LCMNU continues to gather virtually, we reminisce on our gatherings from throughout the year.

LCMNU Continues to Live Out Its Mission

We experience and live God's love by:

- Maintaining connections through fellowship before worship, online game night, graduate student online get-togethers and Zoom calls.
- Working together as a Student Leadership Board to reach out to all students via email.
- Gathering for evening prayer on Wednesdays and worship on Sundays, welcoming senior preachers (and their families) and guest preachers (Bishop Yehiel Curry and NU professor Marjorie Johnson Hilliard).

Marjorie Johnson Hilliard, NU Professor, preached at worship on May 17th.

We practice scholarship and faith by:

- Gathering online for 21Theo and developing topics and speeches for LCMNU's Showcase.
- Celebrating faith with the annual Vocational Legacy night at which graduates speak about their sense of vocation, their time at LCMNU and their future.
- Joining together online for Recognition and Blessing of Graduates during worship on June 7th.

Congratulations to our graduating seniors!

We share and serve our community by:

- Continuing to contribute to NU's Purple Pantry and Connections for the Homeless/Hilda's Place.
- Planning, rehearsing and delivering our 2020 Showcase event.
- Focusing our 21Theo education sessions on the gospel of John to deepen our understanding of calling during and after this pandemic
- Committing to summer education on racial justice

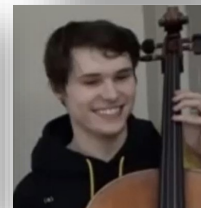

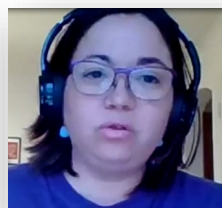

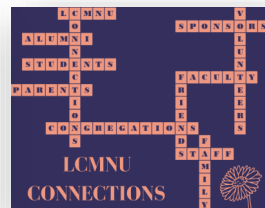

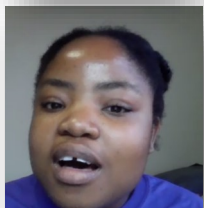

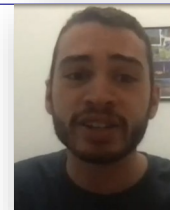

The ministry adapted to challenges to organize another successful Showcase.

Showcase 2020

Thank you to everyone who participated and supported! We reached our $10,000 goal between ticket sales and donations. We hope you learned from students' shared experiences of faith in practice and enjoyed the performances by our talented students. We look forward to future Showcases and your continued support of LCMNU!
